Lost in Yerevan

Millie is visiting Yerevan, the capital of Armenia, and she has gotten lost in the city’s Metropolitan, that is, subway. She is now at the Shengavit station, while her planned destination is another station, Barekamutyun, and she needs to figure out how to get there.

1. Assuming that Millie takes a train in the right direction, what is the first stop after Shengavit? Select your answer from the following list. Note that all names in this list are correct station names, which appear on the map.

   (a) Gortsaranayin
   (b) Zoravar Andranik
   (c) Charbakh
   (d) Garegin Njdehi Hraparak

2. After boarding at Shengavit, how many stops will it take her to get to Barekamutyun (not include Shengavit itself)?

3. What is the name, transcribed into English, of the end station on the five-station line shown by light grey (which is currently under construction)?
